Dr. Randy L. Hyde

Brett Younger is associate professor of preaching at Mercer University's McAfee School of Theology. He writes a monthly humorous piece for Baptists Today. I now share some of his thoughts from his latest column, edited to fit this space. Remarks in parentheses ( ) are mine because Brett doesn't have a corner on this topic. He did, however, inspire me to share them with you.

His subject has to do with proper church behavior and etiquette. Inspired by Miss Manners, aka Judith Martin, Brett wonders what she might say if she addressed the issue of how one ought to act in church. After all, "Good rules come in handy. They help things go smoothly." He notes that she says all thank-you letters (not notes, letters; not e-mails, Facebook alerts or Twitter tweets, letters) in response to gifts should begin with a "burst of enthusiasm" and make sure they name the present with "a flattering adjective" (Hang your hat on that one, it will come into play later). And, Brett points out, one of her rules is that one should never use green ink.

BHe then proceeds to write, "If you are in your 80's, come to Sunday school early. If you are in your 50's, be on time. If you are in your 20s, everyone will be overjoyed if you show up at all.

"You may take coffee to Sunday School. If you bring Starbucks, pour it into a different cup so you will not look uppity. Bring the donuts when it is your turn; Krispy Kremes are preferable. Adults never promote to another Sunday school class; it makes the others in the class feel bad.

"Be on time for worship. This means before the music begins. The first note on the organ, piano or guitar is not a starter's pistol for the hundred-yard dash.

"Children need to learn the sacred nature of worship. This means no chewing gum, iPods or iPhones (adults, that goes for you too!). Stare with disdain at anyone whose cell phone rings (but, of course, do it out of love).

"When faced with the question of what is important enough to whisper to the gentle worshipper seated next to you, it must be as crucial as 'Mommy, the sanctuary is full of smoke.' When speaking to the pastor after worship, begin with a 'burst of enthusiasm' and 'a flattering adjective' in relation to the sermon. After a particularly offensive sermon, use a side exit." Finally, he says, it is perfectly acceptable to use green ink if one is filling out a check.

Brett concludes with this: "As far as I know, Miss Manners has not written any rules for proper church behavior. It might be helpful to look to someone like Saint Paul for guidance. In Romans 12, he writes: 'Let love be genuine. Outdo one another in showing concern. Put others above yourself. Extend hospitality to strangers. Pay no special attention to the wealthy. Talk just as much to the poor. Go out of your way to be kind.'

"When Paul writes rules for correct church behavior he sounds like my mother: 'Be kind. Be sweet. Love everybody. Don't say mean things. Make sure visitors feel welcome.'

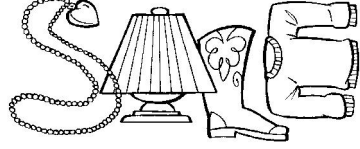

"Maybe we don't need Miss Manners."

Mid-Week Worship

Invite your friends, neighbors and family, and let's make Midweek a new way to worship at Pulaski Heights Baptist.

Church Goal - $2,000
Given to Date - $2,051

Saturday
October 22

8:00 AM - Until Everyone is needed!!
Last work day of the year.

The Wednesday night format is changing from that which is centered around a Bible study to an alternative form of worship. It is our purpose to attract those who may not come to Sunday morning worship, or who are unable to attend.

The times for Midweek will be the same: supper will be served at 5:15 and worship will begin at 6:00.

Trunk
or Treat

Halloween is just around the corner! Monday, October 31, we will have our annual Trunk or Treat. We are asking for at least 2 cars per Sunday School class. All you have to bring is your decorated trunk and fill it with candy. Please let Leann know by Sunday, October 16, if you plan to participate. This is a great event, it is a safe alternative for children and they love it. Come to the Cedar Street Parking Lot by 5:30 p.m. and plan to stay until about 7:00. You won't regret it!!

If you can't bring your trunk, you can bring candy. On your next trip to Walmart or the grocery store, pick up a few extra bags of candy. There will be a box in Hicks Hall for candy donations. Jim Munns would really appreciate it if you would bring lots of chocolate!!

OPERATION
CHRISTMAS
CHILD

Pick up a wrapped shoe box in Hicks Hall (or wrap your own), fill it per instructions inside the box, and return to Hicks Hall during the week of November 13-19.

Dear PHBC Farmers Market Team: I wish to personally thank you for your support of vendors since May and for your hard work, professional approach and organization of the Hillcrest Farmers Market this year. You have no idea how much we appreciate your efforts and the efforts of those of the men and women who get up early and sacrifice their time on our behalf. The kindness and understanding by your team of our needs has not gone unnoticed.

And WE'RE OFF! Last week we successfully launched a Fall Market, Gym Classes, Midweek Wednesday, and a Women's Bible Study. All were well-attended and we are headed for a wonderful season of service.

Eight folks attended gym classes, and all had lots of fun! Come join us! We've added another class too---FENCING! Beginning Fencing will start October 18 at 7:30. It's free to church members and all equipment is provided.

So many of you said how much you enjoyed our MIDWEEK service. Thanks for being here and worshipping with us. Please invite folks to come with you and share our supper and casual worship.

Hillcrest Shop and Sip was a huge success last Thursday. The Swing Band Reunion played to an enthusiastic crowd of children and adults who swayed to the music! Our church tent provided information about all our Fall offerings. Thanks Willie and band! Thanks also to Beci Austin, Gene Blagg, and Jerry Staley for your help at the tent.

Thanksgiving Dinner on Thanksgiving Day, Noon in Hicks Hall was also a topic of interest Thursday evening. Several UAMS students and staff asked for more information. Church members, please know this meal is for you too. Join us for Thanksgiving Dinner at noon and bring a dish or two to share. You may have family dinner plans later but come anyway! If you don't have plans for Thanksgiving, we have your dinner ready!

Advent is around the corner. Plans are being made for a beautiful and festive season at PHBC. We're participating in a two-page church ad in the Hillcrest Resident's Association newsletter inviting people to renew the Christmas spirit in their lives by coming to church. Pray for this message to reach the hearts of our neighbors.

Come to HarvestFest on Saturday this weekend. We'll be there with a church booth and farmers from the Farmers Market selling their locally-grown produce! See you there.

Blessings,
Carolyn
