Dr. Randy L. Hyde

As the tenth anniversary of 9/11 approaches this Sunday, we, your church staff, have been giving our time and attention to how best to commemorate this terrible event. To say the least, it is one of those iconic moments that will forever shape our history. And, it says a great deal about the kind of people we are and have become. How we have changed in the decade since that fateful day!

And since we are re-visiting that moment in time, I thought I'd remind you of some of what I said the Sunday following, a decade ago, when we devoted our worship to dealing with our sense of loss and pain. If you were present for worship that day, perhaps you recall that we had communion, and in my meditation, entitled "Fearful," I quoted the words of Jesus: "Do not let your hearts be troubled, neither let them be afraid." Then, I adapted a quote by Walter Burghardt in the context of this challenge Jesus gave his disciples...

If there was ever a time for fear, it was then. There may have been a great deal of love and support — if not a certain amount of confusion — among Jesus and his disciples as they gathered in the upper room. But outside those closed doors they were disliked and despised by many if not most. At best they were looked upon with suspicion, and at worst with intense hatred. Jesus the Nazarene had dishonored their Sabbath, dined with sinners, absolved an adulteress, claimed he was alive even before Abraham, and said he was the Son of God greater than all their patriarchs and prophets. And don't think it was lost on them that his very own family thought he was out of his mind, religious scribes from Jerusalem charged him with being possessed by demons, and his own townsfolk tried to throw him off a cliff.

They have committed their lives to this man, he has told them he is about to die on a Roman cross, and now he is telling them not to be afraid.

He also said he is about to leave them... alone. Alone to fend for themselves. Alone to face the maddening, murderous crowd. Oh, he talks about sending what he calls an Advocate, the Holy Spirit. But they're not listening. It would be awhile before they remembered his words. Right now, all they understand is what they can see, and as far as they are concerned, they can see it quite clearly. All they have to do is close their eyes and visualize it with their minds. Silhouetted against the darkening Jerusalem sky... cross after cross after cross. The nails through the hands and feet. The pain of having bone and flesh tear under the weight of one's own body. They had seen others die in this manner, and now Jesus seems so willing to take such a terrible death upon himself. How could he do so without taking them down with him?

"Do not let your hearts be troubled, neither let them be afraid." If ever there was a time for fear, it was then.

If there was ever a time for fear, it is now. Tuesday morning's vicious attack on thousands of innocent civilians will forever be remembered as the day we were forced to proclaim war against a virtually unseen enemy. In addition to the yet unnumbered who lost their lives, and the crumbling to the ground of the twin towers of New York's World Trade Center, along with the massive damage to the Pentagon, gone are many of our civil liberties. From now on we will have to be overly concerned about security. Gone are the days when you can fly in a commercial airliner and not be nervous about the person sitting in the seat next to you. Gone are the days of innocence. It will be human nature for all of us to look upon those with darker skin and hair — those who have an eastern look about them — without having at least a bit of suspicion in our hearts.

The disciples of Jesus are about to face life without their Master, and rather than simply leave them with what on the surface could seem to be empty sentimental thought, he wants them to have the courage that is found only in him and in the kingdom. They will need to face the new circumstances of their journey in light of his having left them behind.

We too face new circumstances. Because of the tragic events of the morning of Tuesday, September 11, our world will never again be the same. Will we face the unknown future with the courage borne of our faith in Jesus Christ?

That question was asked ten years ago. How do you think we have done?

Dear PHBC Family:

Thank you so much for your love and support during the loss of Paul's dad. We so appreciate our PHBC family and all your thoughts and prayers. Thanks especially to Jim and Melanie for making last minute adjustments so Linda could be gone and who told her, "don't even worry about it". Such support is priceless, and we are so grateful for all of you!

Sincerely,
Paul and Linda Bruns

If you missed Sunday night's Golden Scoop/Golden Spatula - you missed some wonderful desserts and homemade ice cream. A big thank you to everyone who brought desserts and ice cream and to my wonderful judges! And the winners were.....Golden Spatula to Ruth Hagerty and her yummy German chocolate dessert; Golden Scoop to Don Shipley for his strawberry pecan ice cream.

We had the People's Choice award again this year. I never want anyone to think I don't follow the democratic process so we let everyone have a vote after the judges cast their votes. Don won the People's Choice Award also. His ice cream was a big hit. Mattie Rogers won the Peoples Choice Award for her caramel apple cream cheese strudel (it only had 3 sticks of butter). -- I know everyone enjoyed all the sweets. I can honestly say that no one had just one dessert!!!

At Joyce Van de Griff's request, we played The Singing Bee. Glynda Turner, Mattie Rogers, Tim Hyde and Lowell Bentley were great sports as our contestants. The Singing Bee is "all about the words...You don't have to sing it well, you just have to sing it right!" Well, they did sing well and got a lot of the words right! It seems that when you think you know that song, the words just don't always come to you!! Thank you all for being willing to have some fun. I hope it wasn't too painful! This is one of the many reasons why I love my church family- you all are always willing to have a good time, good fellowship and good eatin'! Blessings

Ruth Hagerty
and Don Shipley

A Note from the Minister
of Music

There are not enough words for me to say how much I appreciated the special recognition of my 25th anniversary! I was overwhelmed by the gifts, reception, and cards. The celebration was a wonderful day for me and for Pat. Sometimes it is difficult to believe that 25 years have passed. Our years together have gone by so quickly and have been a blessing to me, Pat, and my family. We have all been together through so many of life's things. The best part of our 25 years is that you have let me share in your lives. To see children born, grow, baptized, marry, and then have children of their own is just one of the many blessings beyond words. Thank you all for loving and ministering to me and my family. Pulaski Heights Baptist is a great church because of the people who worship, minister, and fellowship with one another and the world. God Bless you ~ Jim

9/11 Commemoration

This Sunday, September 11, at 2:30 p.m., a ceremony of remembrance and unity, E Pluribus Unum – From Many One, will be held on the grounds of the Clinton Center. Following the service, a special performance of "The Long Goodbye" will be conducted by students of the Parkview Arts and Science Magnet School. Governor Mike Beebe and Mayor Mark Stodola will join community faith leaders in these interfaith events marking this significant date on our nation's calendar. The public is invited to attend. In case of inclement weather, the event will be moved inside the library's Great Hall.

THANK YOU, TEACHERS! What a great day we had in worship and at First Sunday Lunch as we paid special tribute to our teachers in Bible Study, Sunday School, Music and Wednesday evening classes! We are tremendously blessed to have such a talented group of individuals who love Christ and who have committed to sharing that love with us. We hope our teachers feel loved and appreciated! God bless you!

GET MOVING! Two changes are ahead for our It's Time outreach with the farmers market. The market continues through September, and in October a few farmers will continue to sell Fall crops from the Cedar St. lot on Saturdays. Come on by!

We are also offering exercise classes for our members and community, as an extension of our "living healthy" outreach theme of the Hillcrest Farmers Market. The exercise classes and use of the gym will allow us to continue to build relationships with our neighbors during the fall and winter months

A Zumba class is meeting now at 6:30 PM Tuesday evenings in Hicks Hall. Zumba is dance/exercise that combines Latin music with a fun and effective workout system. You move a lot, but at your own pace. The current class started in August and continues through October 18. Anyone is welcome to try the class for a one-time fee of $15. You may also join the class for the remaining sessions at any time.

In October we also plan to offer a 30-minute Stretch/Pilates/Yoga class at 6 PM on Tuesday before Zumba. It is open to everyone regardless of age, fitness level, or special needs. It will combine stretching/Pilates exercises. Fees will generally be $10 per class, with a discount for members. Consider both classes and bring pals!

We're also eager to start an Open Gym time for teen/adult pick-up basketball and volleyball games. We are seeking folks to supervise this gym time. Let us know if you're interested!

Fall Attendance is UP! God is blessing us with so many new families and children in Sunday School and Worship! We are very thankful!
